26 Years of Service

Weather Observer Award Given To David B. Sim of Vulcan

David B. Sim, well known farmer in the district north-east of Vulcan, is one of twenty Co-operative Weather Observers for the Meteorological Division of the Canadian Department of Transport who have recently received departmental awards for excellent weather reporting over a period of years.

Mr. Sim has been a Co-operative Weather Observer since 1921 and is one of the two Alberta weather observers who have received the 1957 award of a copy of the new edition of the Canadian Oxford Atlas of the World. The winners were selected on the basis of faithful service over a period of at least five years along with excellent weather reporting. Some of the observers are keenly interested in weather observing as a hobby; others make use of the observations to assist them in farming or other business activities; some take the observations as a public service.

At the present time there are nearly 1,000 co-operative weather observers in Canada. These observers perform their duties without payment from the Meteorological Branch and in the public interest take time each morning and evening to observe the weather and record the temperature and rainfall or snowfall if any has occurred. At the end of each month, the co-operative observer mails his completed report to the district collection centre. After the district centre has extracted certain information required locally, these reports are forwarded to the Climatological Division of the Meteorological Branch in Toronto where the records from all stations in Canada are processed and published in the various reports of the Branch.

The awards were announced by Andrew Thomson, Director of the Meteorological Branch, who pointed out that the co-operative climatological observers have made a very worthwhile contribution to our general knowledge of the climate of Canada. Weather reports submitted by all observers of the Canadian Meteorological Branch are used in the compilation of weather statistics for the various monthly reports published by the Branch. In addition the data are used for computing averages of temperature, rainfall, snowfall, etc.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Prior to her recent marriage to Ken Jesse, Miss Grace Booth was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower, held at the M. A. Jesse home, with Mrs. Irma Middleton and Mrs. Frieda Jones as hostesses.

Some 45 friends of the bride-elect were present and all enjoyed a most happy evening of games and contests arranged by Mrs. Jones. A bingo game provided much fun, with small prizes going to a number of the guests.

Later in the evening the guest of honor was seated under a pink and white canopy, from which streamers were strung. A gaily decorated basket, piled high with gifts, was brought in by the hostesses, with Mrs. Jones making the presentation and extending the best wishes of all present. Grace was assisted in opening the colorfully wrapped parcels by her mother, Mrs. Bud Booth and by Mrs. M. A. Jesse, the mother of the groom-elect. Leona Booth, the sister of the honored guest was in charge of the guest book. Grace later, very graciously thanked her friends for their good wishes and for the many lovely and useful gifts for her new home.

The serving of a jainty lunch concluded the happy event.

This Is Safe Driving Week

Safe driving week is Dec. 1 to 7, 1957. It is being conducted simultaneously in Canada and the United States. This is a very worthwhile effort and will receive the approval and support of every police force in both countries. We join with the Canadian Highway Safety Conference and other authorities responsible for the promoting of Safe Driving Week and in requesting all motorists and pedestrians to do their part.

The test confronting every community will be to remain completely free of traffic accidents for a seven-day period. No traffic program, regardless of how well organized, will succeed without the active co-operation of the public.

Approximately 35,000 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in Canada in the past 20 years. It is a proven fact that 85% of such motor vehicle accidents are due to human behaviour. It is, therefore, apparent that all that is necessary to reduce this terrible toll is for the motorists and pedestrians alike to observe, not only the letter, but the spirit of all traffic laws and regulations. In short, drive and walk as you would have others drive and walk.

One representative from the two W.A. groups will be chosen at a later date to represent the W.A. at Church Board Meetings.

The devotional program was in charge of Mrs. Rose Miller who read from Paul's letter to the Philippians, Chapter 1 and the lesson on Joy of Christmas friendship, Miss Underdahl, assisted by Mrs. Thompson and Miss Mabel Hillard, gave a splendid outline of life in Japan, the royalty, government, religions, people and some of the present day problems in Japan. She had maps, photos and literature to add interest to the talk. This is the introductory part of a series of six lessons on the study of Missions in Japan.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Teskey and at lunch time Mrs. Ruth Shumaker was presented with a little gift from the W.A. in appreciation of her able assistance as auctioneer at the bazaar.

In various central European countries the Christmas Crib, staged in a box, is carried through the streets by groups of singing children during Christmas time.

BRANT

Jack Fletcher, age 46, a farmer of the Brant district was accidentally killed sometime Wednesday, when his car went out of control, on the approach to the Little Bow bridge, nine miles south-west of Brant. Our deepest sympathy is extended to his wife and his four brothers, Frank, Clifford, Stanley and Bill and families of Brant district and his mother and sister of Calgary, in their sudden bereavement.

Barry Campbell was the M.C. The banquet supper which was catered to by the United Church W.A. consisted of roast chicken with dressing, potatoes, carrots, salads, buns, etc., with ice-cream and cake and coffee. During the supper Wm. Samarodon proposed the toast to the Queen. Barry introduced the honored guests. John Campbell gave a summary of the year's work. The guest speaker, N. PLANNING ALBERTA COMMUNITIES

Alberta's development has not been confined to the large cities. Towns and rural areas also reflect the growth and the problems of systematic planned expansion that go with it. The Government accordingly established the Provincial Planning Advisory Board in 1951 to determine planning policies. These policies are administered by the Town and Rural Planning Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs. The technical advice and assistance of the Branch is available upon request to any Municipality under 5,000 population which is not a member of a District Planning Commission. An aerial survey is made of the community from which contour maps are prepared. Plans are then made for subdividing and zoning. Detailed layouts for housing and commercial areas are drawn up. In addition a report based on economic and population surveys is prepared for a planning period of ten years. Proposals for the orderly development of the municipality are included in this report. One half of the cost of the aerial survey is the only expense borne by the municipality representing a small percentage of the total cost for this complete service.

ASSESSMENT BRANCH

Uniformity in assessments for municipal taxation purposes is a problem which has long existed. The Assessment Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs was formed in 1935 to achieve this end. Since its inception many changes have been incorporated to keep pace with the growth of Alberta. It has also been necessary to alter assessment methods in view of the new types of construction and building techniques presently being used. Practically all of the towns and villages in the province have requested departmental assessments for taxation and other purposes. Rural assessments are not undertaken by Branch assessors although under certain conditions the government pays 50% of costs. Urban areas are required to pay one-half the cost of assessment, with the government paying the remainder, notwithstanding who carries out the work, whether a municipal or government assessor. Assessment Branch sub offices have been established at Red Deer, Grande Prairie, Calgary and Lethbridge to ensure close liaison with the local municipal officials, as well as to give advice and assistance to appointed municipal assessors.

INSPECTION BRANCH

The Department of Municipal Affairs Act requires the books and records of every municipality to be inspected at least once a year. This is the responsibility of the Inspection Branch and all assessment and tax rolls, minute books, by-law registers, cash books, bank books and any other records the Inspector may require of the Municipality are examined. Assistance and advice on procedure for effective administration of the municipality is an important service of the Inspection Branch. In cases of where new towns, villages, municipal districts or counties are incorporated a member of the inspection branch may act as administrator of this new unit until the council has been elected. Each year an annual report is prepared by the Inspection Branch in which is incorporated the financial statements of every municipality in Alberta.

These important service branches are also part of the Department of Municipal Affairs.
